

"Inspirational," "motivational," "thought-provoking," all these otherwise cliché phrases become valid assessments when used to describe Scott Burrows' presentation to our statewide insurance agency force. His personal story intrigues an audience immediately, but it is how he deals with life-altering challenges that captures attention and compels listeners to resolve to apply his attitude to their own personal circumstances. I've had the opportunity to listen to many speakers throughout my career, and I sincerely believe that Scott Burrows is one of the best I've ever heard. I am confident that his message could apply to any profession and should be heard by everyone.
