

Scott Burrows

From: KUpton@nhccare.com
Sent: Wednesday, September 19
To: scott@scottburrows.com
Subject: Wise as Serpents and Subtle as Doves

Scott,

It was a blessing to be in your presence during the NHC conference on September 7th. It was quite evident early on that your hope was built on something far greater than what carnal eyes could imagine. Your motivational speech was far more than what the world considers motivational. It delved into the depths of the human spirit and you gave us the single most powerful testimony of God's grace, mercy and healing that I have ever heard. God works all things out in the spiritual even before we could imagine a natural solution and it is truly the limitations of our finite being that hinders what he has already ordained and unfortunately often limits what we will achieve in life. It is absolutely true that through Christ all things are possible. You know, we really are ordinary people, but when an EXTRAordinary God works in us we too become EXTRAordinary. Each of us at some point in our lives must consider our spirituality and answer that question posed by the Christ; "Wilt thou be made whole?" You demonstrated a hope that can not be entrusted in any other being on earth, because we are not capable of using our natural resources to operate in a spiritual reality. You, Scott Burrows, have operated as wise as a serpent and as subtle as a dove to deliver a message of hope even to those who would not normally be willing to receive, to those who have resisted religion, to those who have resisted God and they will be forced to see the indisputable evidence that something supernatural happened in your life to cause your severed spinal cord to communicate those neurological impulses and cause you to stand and walk. Always walk in courage, my brother in Christ.

You will hear from me again soon, I would like very much to introduce your testimony to my pastor and hopefully invite you to give your testimony in an unconstrained setting; oh, how we would praise the LORD with you!

With sincere Christian regards,

Karen M. Upton, RN
Clinical Computer and Medical Coding Education
NHC HomeCare
100 Vine Street, 8th Floor
Murfreesboro, TN 37130
Phone 615-890-2020 ext. 1812
Fax 615-278-7777
kupton@nhccare.com